Emerald SMP From Last Season (March 2026)

In the last season of the Emerald SMP, there was proof via screenshots of the admin Lacha having an illegal stash of Shulker Boxes filled with OP armor. Such type of equipment cannot be acquired in any way in regular survival mode and thus amounts to a violation worthy of ban.

[Agraria] <skibiditees> can i get that hostage pad
Azentium heinz_man was impaled by Drowned
[Agraria] <Goldentooth746> i think u need to place the water att the same y level as the crops

[END] <lachameleon> yes
[Agraria] <skibiditees> i see a couple 100 shulkers

Great job documenting this! Clear admin abuse! He has shulker boxes and hes in the end!

In addition, evidence on record shows that one of Lacha’s associates in administration actually used ESP (Extra Sensory Perception). The breach of security in the system resulted in the discovery and exposure of player villager stash regularly.

In addition, Lacha also misused his administrative powers when he imposed an unfounded ban on one player for just one letter "E" and gave no real explanation whatsoever.

Emerald SMP new season

While conducting early access tests on the modded season, the admin Lacha subjected a certain moderator, Rod, to targeted harassment. In the course of building a house, Rod was trapped in a bedrock box by Lacha for about 30 minutes. After freeing Rod, Lacha destroyed his build which was built immediately above the underground bedrock build. Rod lost close to two hours of playing time after this incident where they got respawned and their house exploded with explosives.

In another instance, Lacha trapped Rod again in bedrock. When Rod had logged out of the server, Lacha kicked him from the whitelists to the SMP. In a final attempt to make the complaint, Rod made the post before disconnecting, to which Lacha replied in an irritated tone. They stripped Rod of their moderator powers and banned them from the server permanently. After banning Rod, Lacha went ahead and deleted all of their messages in the #mod channel.

Am I allowed to test the jail feature? You were demoted wayyy before

Moreover, the evidence provided includes photographic proof of more administrative abuses and server disruptions:

Manipulation of In-Game Entities: Screenshots show instances of Lacha using administrative privileges to generate an entity known as "Donald Trump" in the game world.

Griefing and Restricting Movement: Proof in the form of photos shows that Lacha has destroyed Rod's house using TNT, as well as evidence showing that she was forcibly teleported to and imprisoned in the bedrock cage.

Witnesses to Administrative Abuse: Evidence provided also includes a chat log of Rod's message to another player, MNN, which describes the sequence of events that resulted in her ban from the server.

Rod MIKU Yesterday at 9:06 AM

Well, to tell it short, Lacha was admin abusing. (edited)

It all started off like a normal day, back when I first became mod, I acted like ChatGPT because i didn't know if the admins were cool. After a while I notice that the admins were chill so I let go of that.

Lacha in that specific day let us mods play test the new server. I joined and started getting materials and building a house. Then out of nowhere Lacha came to me and started putting me inside a bedrock box. He didn't let me go after 30 minutes which was really annoying.

After he left I decided to finish my house on top of the bedrock cage built underground. Lacha then came back and destroyed my house with tnt, which was again, really annoying.

Lacha then killed me and I was back at spawn and wasted 1-2 hours of my time. Lacha came back and then again decided to put me in a bedrock box, which I had enough of and left the server. Lacha unwhitelisted me and I couldn't join back.

I went to the discord server to complain to Lacha, then I said, "you know what, thank you Lacha" this was because it was really late at night and I had to go to bed.

Lacha then said holy unstable mod, and took my mod role away.

The I realized I was banned from the server.

That is all. All I did was complain and got banned.

In addition, even after being presented with the archived message where Rod explains to MNN about the administrative abuse on the Emerald SMP, Lacha denied the claims altogether, stating that they were made up.

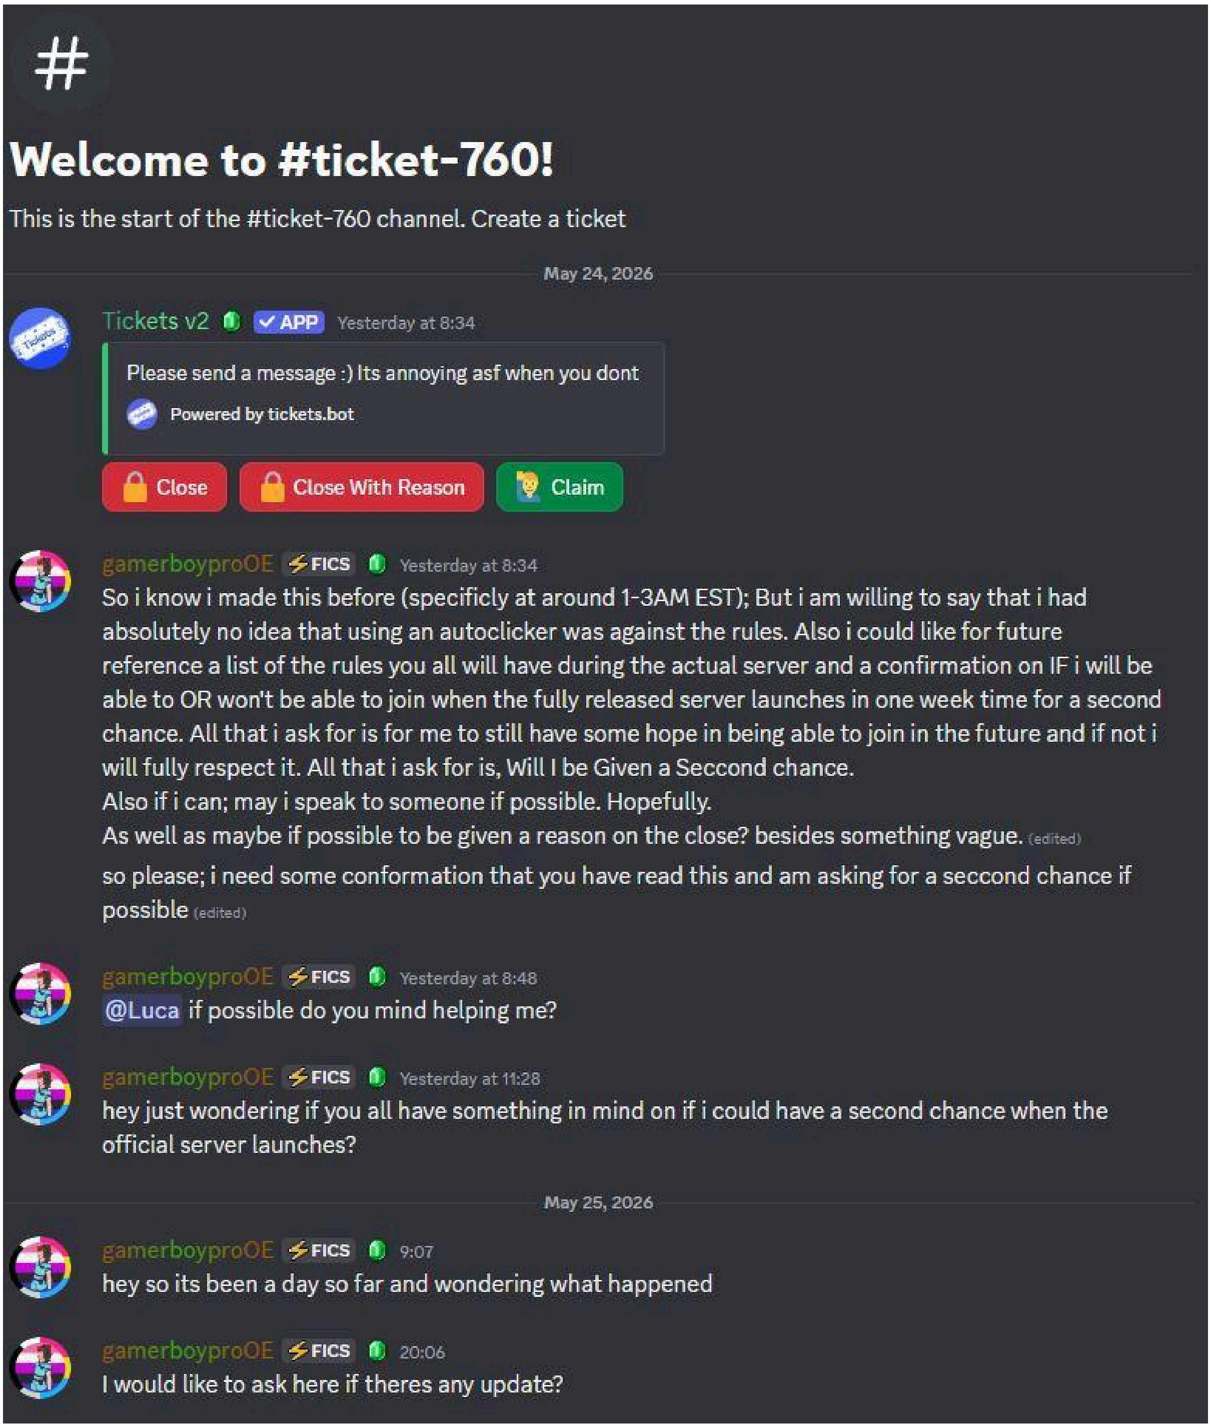
New abuse since May 26th, 2026 AST

Someone has talked about being banned for using an auto clicker but this was still not the case, a person talked about the SMP test server and one of her friends was using an auto clicker and got banned for it but in the SMP rules, it obviously showed that there wasn’t a rule that said “No Using AutoClickers” and when the friend submitted a ticket in the discord server talking about they didn’t knew that autoclickers weren’t allowed and they’re sorry but since Iacha was the handling the tickets and and the friend didn’t hear anything from Iacha, even after bumbing the ticket, even tho the ticket is still not closed

You were using an autoclicker. It was an unauthorised modification. That is in the rules

Still, this is admin laziness and again, abuse.



Welcome to #ticket-760!

So i know i made this before (specificly at around 1-3AM EST); But i am willing to say that i had absolutely no idea that using an autoclicker was against the rules. Also i could like for future reference a list of the rules you all will have during the actual server and a confirmation on IF i will be able to OR won't be able to join when the fully released server launches in one week time for a second chance. All that i ask for is for me to still have some hope in being able to join in the future and if not i will fully respect it. All that i ask for is, Will I be Given a Seccond chance.
Also if i can; may i speak to someone if possible. Hopefully.
As well as maybe if possible to be given a reason on the close? besides something vague. (edited) so please; i need some conformation that you have read this and am asking for a seccond chance if possible (edited) most of my projects are on github and only like 10 repos are private. i have about 100 out there for you :D

i also do some cool stuff on dc stuff i code:

- chameleonshell: server scanning inc is a community of nerds that got together with the liveoverflow minecraft server, from there people developed tools to scan for minecraft servers, nowadays its generally a place where nerds hang out.
- epstein llm: a tinyllama LoRA adapter that was trained off the epstein files.
- nomad: a bare bones chat client where everything possible is processed client side.
- bliss client: bliss is a fork of meteor client, removing server illegal modules, and porting over qol (quality of life) modules from popular meteor addons.
